

Germany Looks Upon Dawes Findings As Basis For Dealings

Reich Prepared to Resume Negotiations with Reparations Commission

ORAL DISCUSSION PLANNED

MacDonald Says Report Is Unbiased and Well Thought Out Plan

By Associated Press
Berlin.—The German cabinet Tuesday decided to accept the experts' report as a basis for negotiations and to inform the reparations commission to this effect. This is in line with the attitude taken by the conferees in Monday's meeting between the central government and the premiers of the federated states.

The government has instructed Dr. Fischer of the German War Burdens commission in Paris to notify the reparations commission that Germany is prepared to resume negotiations on the basis of the experts' report. It makes no suggestion with respect to the manner in which the parleys are to be resumed, but it is assumed that after these will be initiated through oral discussions shortly after the Easter holidays.

MACDONALD IS PLEASED

London.—The first official expression of opinion on the reparations experts' report from Prime Minister MacDonald came in the house of commons Tuesday when he announced that the government had learned with greatest satisfaction of the unanimous signing of the experts' findings.

"The experts' reports constitute, in our opinion," the premier said, "an unbiased and carefully thought out endeavor to aid the governments concerned in their task of reaching a settlement of this vital and long standing problem."

"His majesty's government," added the prime minister, "attach so much importance to the agreed recommendations which can be brought into immediate operation, that they are prepared for their part to support the scheme in its entirety, provided all the other parties concerned are willing to take the same course, and on April 10 they communicated that view to the government concerned, including the United States."

After the prime minister had made his announcement on the experts' report, Stanley Baldwin, his conservative predecessor, declared the premier would have the united support of the British people in his attitude. This declaration was received with cheers.

GLASS CONTINUES COOLIDGE ATTACK

Virginia Senator Says Letter Is "Amazing Imputation" Upon Bureau

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—The Democratic assault upon President Coolidge's letter of last Friday relating to the conduct of investigations was renewed in the senate Tuesday. Senator Glass of Virginia, declaring the president's letter to be "an amazing imputation" upon that body.

Denying any purpose to attack the president or the secretary of the treasury because of their attitude to the investigation of the internal revenue bureau, the Virginia senator said he arose to "express in a temperate way the indignation every senator of spirit must feel."

It became known as the senator was speaking that he had decided on the major points in his address after conference with a group of influential men of his party both in and out of congress. His colleagues were nearly all in their seats and listened to the speech with an air of expectancy which indicated that they regarded the utterance as of unusual significance.

PETTY OFFICER KILLS COMRADE

By Associated Press
Waukegan, Ill.—Without warning, F. W. Helmer, chief petty officer at the Great Lakes naval training station here, Monday night shot and killed Daniel Wentworth, chief boat-sweeper's mate, in the mess hall where 40 petty officers were eating.

Helmer fired six shots pointblank at Wentworth, killing him instantly. He was rendered immediately and refused to make any statement.

An official inquiry by a board of officers is to be made before court-martial proceedings to naval authorities. A report that the slaying resulted from attentions paid by Wentworth to Helmer's wife was scouted by officers, who declared both men were unmarried.

C. Of C. Gets Suggestions For Civic Improvement

HERE are the principal tasks proposed Monday night by community leaders for the chamber of commerce to undertake in the future: Dr. Samuel Plantz, president of Lawrence college. Unit system of education to replace district plan; greater appreciation of work of teachers; counteract opposition to Lawrence college.

Judson G. Rosebush, president of Patten Paper Co.: A better spirit toward industry so that its development in Wisconsin will not stop and its talented leaders be attracted elsewhere.

J. D. Steele, president of Pettibone-Peabody Co.: Remove railroad track in Belaire park; union passenger and freight depot at Appleton junction; removal of billboards from highways and overhanging signs from business places.

Eliminating close connection between municipal water intake and sewage disposal; garbage disposal system for sake of health; opening of new residence plats laid out with idea of beauty; put city plan in operation; find way to eliminate smoke nuisance.

Emory Meltz, Greenville dairyman: Bring in speakers who are experts on solution of farm problems; cause burning of all packing refuse on California shipments to prevent foot and mouth disease from coming into country; clean up Chicago and Northwestern stockyards; establish stockyard on Soo line tracks.

Publish Appleton city plan so public sentiment will demand its adoption; stop amending zoning ordinance; put subway under tracks on Morrison-st; take steps to build civic center in Soldier-sq.

Widow Gets Fortune Of Hugo Stinnes

By Associated Press
Berlin.—Hugo Stinnes' fortune is left to his widow, Claire Stinnes, nee Wagnen, who is administering to consult her sons and daughters in all things affecting the magnate's private and foreign properties.

The eldest son, Dr. Edmund Hugo Stinnes, will direct the properties in the Ruhr and Rhineland, while Hugo Hermann Stinnes will oversee the family's interest at the headquarters in Berlin and care for the shipping and foreign properties.

Stinnes' advice to his widow and children given while on his deathbed was to "stick together" and "work for the common good."

BONUS BILL WILL GET QUICK ACTION

Measure Formally Reported to Senate Expected to Be Considered This Week

Washington, D. C.—The soldier bonus bill was formally reported to the senate Tuesday by Senator Curtis, Kansas, a Republican member of the finance committee.

The measure is the same as passed by the house except for minor changes and would provide for 20-year endowment life insurance policies and cash payments to those not entitled to more than $50 in adjusted service compensation.

Consideration of the bill by the senate before the end of the week is in prospect, the finance committee having agreed Monday to place it ahead of the tax reduction measure. House P. Brown, a veterans bureau actuary, estimated the cost of the insurance at $2,404,567,420. Herbert Hess, the American Legion executive, said it was $2,382,760,000 and Joseph McCoy, treasury actuary, at $3,621,047,691. The cost was estimated at $2,025,888,696 by the house ways and means committee.

The maximum amount of an insurance policy would be about $1600 for overseas and $1,200 for all home service. Directories of the veterans bureau estimated.

Adjusted service credits would be allowed on the basis of $1 a day for home service and $1.25 for overseas service with maximums of $500, and $625 respectively. The first 60 days' service could not be counted.

PET RABBITS TAKE PART IN THAW CASE

Philadelphia, Pa.—Harry K. Thaw's conduct with his pet rabbits "Fudge" and "Tootsie" and his comments on attractive women visitors at the Pennsylvania hospital for mental and nervous diseases in west Philadelphia where he has been confined seven years were described at his sanity trial in common pleas court Tuesday.

With Dr. Charles K. Mills, alienist on the stand in Thaw's behalf, Arthur G. Dickson, attorney for the trustees of the Thaw estate produced hospital records to offset the specialist's assertion that the slayer of Stanford White is sane.

SIX SPEAKERS TELL C. C. HOW TO HELP CITY

Many Big Tasks Still Await Action by Chamber of Commerce, 125 Are Told

Appleton still has many tasks before it, according to six speakers at the annual chamber of commerce dinner at Vermeulen's Monday evening. Some of them suggested new activities and others brought up for consideration projects that had been discussed before. The speakers were Dr. Samuel Plantz, who urged educational progress, Judson G. Rosebush who urged a better feeling toward industry, J. D. Steele who urged park and depot improvements, Dr. D. O. Kinsman who stressed health steps, Emory Meltz who asked more and cleaner stock shipping facilities, and Leonard S. Smith of Madison, who championed adoption of the city plan he had prepared.

This was one of the largest dinner meetings held by the chamber this year, with about 125 present. E. A. Schmalz, president, was chairman and gave a brief report in which he commended the city officials for the things they had accomplished, principally in carrying out the bridge and school building programs. Secretary Hugh G. Corbett also gave a report showing that a large number of community projects had been accomplished. The treasurer's report of L. O. Wisnmann showed that about $1,000 was handled during the year and that a substantial balance remains.

Dr. H. E. Peabody, who gave the invocation, also announced the Easter musical festival for Sunday and Monday, and L. A. Buchman described the staging of "The Tale of the Fox" next week by Appleton Women's club. The song for this production, was played by the composer of its music, Miss Irene Bidwell, and sung by George Mecholson. Three girls from the cast gave a "behind the stage" skit to give an idea what the program was like. Singing was led by Dr. Earl L. Baker.

Five new directors were elected by the chamber to succeed E. A. Schmalz, H. J. Ingold, Seymour Gruber, Robert Schmidt and R. W. Getchew. The balloting during the week previous gave the majority of votes to Charles Boyd, A. A. Wettengel, E. A. Peterson, Dr. H. K. Pratt and E. H. Jennings.

Mayor Henry Reiter, Mayor-elect John Goodale Jr., the common council and other officials of the city were guests at the dinner. Members of the new council had to leave early, however, to attend an informal session at the city hall.

Dr. Plantz in his talk declared that although Appleton has done well, the district school system now is obsolete and the unit system should be adopted in the interest of cooperation and unified supervision. He also urged the

LANGLEY INDICTED ON THREE COUNTS

Kentucky Congressman and Five Others Stand Trial Tuesday

By Associated Press
Covington, Ky.—The indictment under which John W. Langley, congressman from the tenth Kentucky district, will appear in United States district court here Tuesday and plead not guilty contains three counts, the first of which charges Langley and five other men with conspiracy to defraud the government out of $17,540 in taxes by the withdrawal of 1,540 cases of whisky, ostensibly for medical purposes, the liquor being disposed of later for beverage purposes. The two other counts charge the alleged conspirators with having transported and sold the liquor.

These named in the indictment with Langley are M. E. Huth and Walter B. Carey, Canton, O., said to have been owners of the whisky withdrawn; Albert B. Slater and Hiram W. Benner, former prohibition officers at Philadelphia and Milton Lipschultz also of Philadelphia.

The congressman came here Monday and executed bond for his appearance.

FOUR KILLED WHEN TRAM SMASHES CAR

By Associated Press
Kalamazoo, Mich.—Four persons were killed instantly at a grade crossing here last Monday night when the automobile in which they were riding stalled in the path of a Battle Creek-Kalamazoo interurban. All were buried in the wreckage of their machine under the front truck of the interurban car.

The dead are: Charles Silsworth, Kalamazoo; Mrs. Elizabeth Trombler, Goldie Trombler, 17, driver of the car, and Frank Trombler, 8, son of Mrs. Trombler. The Tromblers lived at Comstock, Mich.

COUNTY MAY HAVE 3 MOTOR COPS ON ROADS THIS YEAR

Highway Committee Asks County Board for Appropriation of $2,400

Appointment of three motorcycle officers will be asked of the county board of supervisors which meets this week in the courthouse for the first session since the spring elections.

This request was formulated at a meeting of the county-state road and bridge committee in the highway commissioner's office Monday afternoon. It was conceded by the committee members that one man is unable to cope with the traffic situation in the county. The new ordinance passed by the county board at its November session gives the county the benefit of the fines that will be collected from speeders.

It is pointed out that in Winnebago two motorcycle officers had practically made their positions self-supporting by the fines that followed the arrests they made. The committee instructed A. G. Brusewitz, highway commissioner, to prepare a resolution appropriating $2,400 as compensation of three motorcycle officers.

One application has thus far been received by the committee. It was the application of Wilbur Bogan of Little Chute who served as "speedcop" the last two seasons. Action on the application was deferred until after the board meeting.

Bids for furnishing the highway department with graders were opened, and the business was given to Russell Grader, Manufacturing, company of Minneapolis for five road graders at $17.23 each.

The committee also instructed the commissioner to advertise for contractors to build on building two bids of 9-foot concrete pavement on the Little Chute-Fremont road. The bids will be opened at the meeting of April 28.

LAFOLLETTE LEADS BY 100,000 VOTES

Complete Count From All Counties Gives Smith Majority of 12,000

By Associated Press
Madison.—Complete unofficial returns of the April primary election tabulated here Tuesday give La Follette candidates to the Republican convention a lead of slightly more than 100,000 over Coolidge delegates. Candidates supporting Governor Smith of New York lead McAdoo candidates from 12,000 to 16,000 votes.

Tabulation from all counties follows: LaFollette ticket: Blain 200,822; Zimmerman 190,082; Etkorn 185,051; Johnson 186,814; Volpert 185,041; Levittan 153,035; Gates 176,621.

Coolidge ticket: Phillips 100,295; Dittmar 98,297; Goodland 92,797; Hoard 91,568.

Smith ticket: Callahan 58,880; Moran 53,426; Lueck 52,165; Kluewe 50,547.

McAdoo ticket: Opper 42,137; Keller 40,367; Hooper 35,556; Fleming 35,853.

SMITH ACCLAIMED 1924 CANDIDATE

Albany, N. Y.—Alfred E. Smith, governor of New York, Tuesday received from his Democratic colleagues in the state the first official recognition in the New York state of the possibility of his becoming a Democratic presidential candidate.

In delivering the keynote address to the Democratic state convention assembled Tuesday to select delegates and affiliates-at-large to the national convention, former supreme court Justice Herckhoff definitely set him forth as a presidential possibility.

The ovation which greeted Justice Herckhoff's remarks bespoke according to even the most pessimistic leaders an encouraging support of the governor from every angle of New York Democracy.

WISCONSIN PROFESSOR MAY SUCCEED ENGINEER

Madison.—Professor Edward Bennett of the electrical engineering department of the University of Wisconsin is being considered for the position of state engineer to succeed the late J. G. D. Mack, it was stated officially Tuesday. C. M. Larson, chief engineer of the railroad commission, is under consideration. It was said. The railroad commission will make a selection for the engineer's position within a few days, officials stated.

U. S. CHOOSES DELEGATES TO CLAIM COMMISSION

Washington, D. C.—Indications were given at the White House Tuesday that the American government had decided upon its representatives on the joint claims commission with Mexico and had referred the selections to the Mexican government.

CHIEF JUSTICE SUCCUMBS AFTER CANCER OPERATION

By Associated Press
Omaha, Neb.—Chief Justice Constantine J. Smyth of the circuit court of appeals of the district of Columbia died Monday night at Rochester, Minn., following two operations for relief from cancer.

D. A. R. Would Encourage Women To Use Franchise

Washington, D. C.—Some action designed to encourage participation by women in the coming election was predicted Tuesday by leaders attending the thirty-third continental congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

President Coolidge, addressing the convention Monday night, pointed out that for the first time in a national election the women of the United States have known far in advance that they would have a voice in the decision and urged that they exercise their right of suffrage to the fullest extent.

Declaring the people of the nation may well be summoned "to the preservation, the guardianship and the gradual perfection" of the American system of government, Mr. Coolidge at the same time warned against the "perilous" of the current troubled period from the principle of coordination legislative, executive and judicial authority. The recent clashes between the executive and legislative branches of the government, however, were not mentioned specifically by the president.

The value of preparedness was emphasized by General Pershing who, with Ambassador J. E. G. B. and Howard of Great Britain also addressed the congress Monday night. Asserting that "the stability and future of the republic depended upon the intelligence and patriotism of our young men and women," General Pershing said the citizen training camps were attempting to "train young men to an understanding of their responsibilities as citizens."

The reports of the resolutions and other committee occupied most of the attention of the daughters Tuesday morning and the meetings of state delegations and national executive committees were allotted the afternoon.

SMALL DAMAGE IS CAUSED BY SLEET STORM IN NORTH

Thunder, Lightning, Snow and Rain Accompany Gale in Superior

By Associated Press
Superior.—With thunder, lightning, snow, sleet, rain and a mile gale, Superior Monday night experienced its first "jazz storm."

In its wake Superiorites awakened Tuesday morning to trek to business in several inches of snow which coated the walks. No damage was reported although late autoists had difficulty driving during the night.

Chippewa Falls.—Overcast skies and high winds brought a chill Tuesday to the Chippewa valley. Rain which threatened appears likely to turn to a sleet storm unless the temperature changes.

Ironwood, Mich.—Except for the difficulty experienced by street cars in getting contact with the trolley wires, due to the coating of ice on the wires, the Gogebic range suffered little from the rain and sleet storm Tuesday morning. Electricity and power service was interrupted for a short period, but the breaks were quickly repaired.

LITTLE CHUTE MAN MAIMED BY AUTO

Martin Wyngaard Is in Hospital Here—Hit by Gregory Hartjes' Car

Martin Wyngaard of Little Chute, is in St. Elizabeth hospital with serious injuries as the result of being struck by an automobile about 8:45 Monday evening. The accident happened on Main-st of Little Chute near the street limits of the village, while Mr. Wyngaard was crossing the street, which is part of highway 15. The driver apparently didn't see the pedestrian and struck him with considerable force.

Mr. Wyngaard's exact injuries have not been determined but he is said to have suffered a broken leg, a badly bruised side and lacerations on his head. He was taken to the hospital after the accident.

HUGHES WILL SOUND KEYNOTE OF G. O. P.

By Associated Press
New York.—Secretary of State Hughes, one time governor of New York, is expected to sound a national Republican "keynote" of more than ordinary interest when he opens the Republican state convention in the town hall Tuesday night. The speech will be the outstanding feature of the convention which will end Wednesday with the reports of various committees.

A resolution endorsing President Coolidge and his administration is expected.

Mr. Hughes, who is to be temporary chairman of the convention, will return to Washington immediately after the conclusion of his address, which is to be broadcast by radio.

Senate Committee Resumes Hearings on Naval Oil Land Leases

GEN. WOOD APPROACHED Oklahoma Committee Had Ambitions To Be Secretary of Interior

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—Resuming its public hearings, the senate oil committee Tuesday heard a recapitulation of the chronology of the naval oil leases from Dr. A. Millrock of the general land office. He was called by Senator Spencer, Republican of Missouri.

Senator Spencer offered for the record a series of 22 questions concerning the oil leases, answered by Secretary Denby at the request of house members, but the committee voted 3 to 2 against admitting them. Chairman Ladd voted against their admission on the ground that they were not sworn testimony.

H. W. Ballard of Los Angeles, who identified himself as an oil man, told the committee that in 1920 Jake Hamon, Republican national committee man from Oklahoma, said to him "that General Wood wanted to be nominated and that if Wood could be nominated he would appoint a certain man as secretary of interior."

"Hamon had ambitions to be secretary of the interior," Ballard said. Hamon gave him the impression, he declared, that big oil men in California would help him to develop Teapot Dome.

Later, Ballard said, Hamon told him "the combination was too strong for him. The Sinclair interests had beaten him to the goal; that the oil was Teapot Dome. The witness said Hamon had related that the proposition on Teapot had been put up to General Wood and he had refused to listen to it. Ballard said Hamon also had said, Fall was to be secretary of the interior but that Warren Harding knew nothing about the deal that had been put over."

"Hamon had been a close friend of Hamon but that the latter had made the statement to him when he was angry and disappointed."

HOUSE CONSIDERS CHICAGO DRAIN ROW

Attorney General of Michigan Opposes Withdrawal of Water from Lake

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—The Hull bill proposing the withdrawal from Lake Michigan of 10,000 cubic feet of water second for the Chicago sewerage system was taken up Tuesday by the house rivers and harbors committee and met with immediate opposition from Andrew B. Daugherty, attorney general of Michigan, and others. The Michigan official told the committee the plan would inflict great harm on Michigan and that the whole United States would suffer. The proposed withdrawal, he said, would lower the level of the lake from seven inches to five inches according to locality which would be injurious to commerce.

Quoting many precedents, Mr. Daugherty said it was illegal for one state to withdraw water to the detriment of another state. This, he said, had been upheld many times by higher courts, and he was of the opinion that congress did not the power to legislate as is proposed.

Frank Schwab, mayor of Buffalo, N. Y., testified that thousands of tons of freight handled in Buffalo harbor would be menaced if the level of the lake were lowered.

PLUMMER CALLED IN SHIP BOARD PROBE

Washington, D. C.—The views of Commissioner Plummer were sought Tuesday by the special house committee investigating the shipping board which resumed its inquiry after another three-day recess.

Mr. Plummer, an authority on the traffic question, was the fourth witness to be heard by the investigating committee on this subject and the board's policies relating to it. Chairman O'Connor of the board, President Palmer of the fleet corporation and Commissioner Thompson having previously testified. The latter three of officials are likely to be recalled at any time, however, as the committee continues its efforts to get a thorough understanding of the present operation of the merchant marine.

WARM WEATHER AND RAIN BREAKING UP ICE IN BIG LAKE

Water Raised 3½ Inches from Saturday to Monday, Gauge Shows

The ice in Lake Winnebago which continued to hold even though navigation was opened officially last Saturday is now beginning to break up. The lake was full of ice on Sunday, but it had become honeycombed and had broken into large floes that were slowly moving toward the north end of the lake. Indications are that the lake will be entirely clear of ice in a few days.

Persons living near the shores of the lake had been watching for the annual breakup and some feared that if the wind were in the right direction there might have been some piling and jamming of ice.

Navigation opened somewhat early this year, considering that the ice in Lake Winnebago was still holding on Saturday, the opening day. Yet the opening date has often been earlier than April 12.

The opening of navigation also marks the closing of the sluice gates to raise the water to the required level. Under an agreement between riparian owners and waterpower users, the government allows the level of Lake Winnebago to be raised to a point six inches below the crest of the Menasha dam at the opening of navigation.

But since the waters of Lake Winnebago were still blocked with ice last week, the gates were closed and the level raised—not to six inches above the crest, but to the actual crest.

On Monday the level of the lake stood 3½ inches above the crest of the Menasha dam, which indicates a rise of 3½ inches since Saturday morning.

SUPERVISORS ARRIVING FOR SPRING SESSION
County supervisors were arriving Tuesday morning in order to be on hand for the opening of the county board at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Nine new members will have their names entered on the roll. They are James Kennedy, Bovina; Halie Diod, Rick, Ellington; Henry Gueff, Grand; Gustav, John Knapstein, Greenville; Ervin Martin, Maple Creek; L. F. Bushey, First ward, Appleton; William Tate, Bear Creek; John Schmidt, Third ward, Kaukauna; Henry Fuerst, Third ward, New London.

Postpone Meeting
St. Paul Lutheran church will not hold its quarterly business meeting Sunday, the regular date, because of Easter. It will take place on Sunday, April 27 instead.

Last Day To Obtain New Car Licenses

Policemen on traffic duty have been warning motorists with 1923 license plates on their cars to keep off the streets until they have 1924 permits to drive, and George T. Prim, chief of the department, issued formal warning on Tuesday that this is the last day of grace for obtaining the new plates. After today motorists unless they can prove definitely that they have applied for new licenses, persons arrested will be taken into court, the chief said.

Enforcement of the arterial highway ordinance also will be more severe. Policemen are being stationed at arterial corners and motorists who are in too much of a hurry to stop will be given an extra ride to Judge A. M. Spencer's court.

Motorcycle policemen will be on the streets in a few days to check up on other violations of motor regulations.

PUBLIC IS INVITED TO BEETHOVEN CLUB RECITAL
A recital of Beethoven compositions will be presented at 8:20 Tuesday night in Peabody hall by the Beethoven club of Lawrence Conservatory of Music. This club is of recent organizations and its purpose is the promotion of a higher standard of musical performance, musical intelligence and musical memory. The advancement of a higher musical life in the community through its members. The public has been invited to attend the recital.

Committee Will Meet
The publicity and convention committee of the chamber of commerce, which has the campaign in charge to raise $2,000 in Outagamie county for state publicity, will meet at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the chamber offices. Subscriptions have not been coming in liberally, and a personal canvass therefore will be considered.

DEATHS
MRS. AUGUSTA L. RECK
Mrs. Augusta Louisa Reck, 65, died Monday evening at her home, 811 State-st. She was born at Monroe, Mich., April 23, 1858 and lived in Appleton for about 46 years. Her husband died 27 years ago. She is survived by three sons, John, William and Frank, all of Appleton, and two brothers, Philip and Casper Miller, also of Appleton. The funeral will be held at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning from St. Joseph church. Interment will be in St. Joseph cemetery.

SIX SPEAKERS TELL C. C. HOW TO HELP CITY

chamber to stand by every educational improvement, to encourage schools in public undertakings and to foster the parent-teacher system because it helps disseminate educational information and gives better public contact with schools. More recognition for teachers and a greater place for them in community social life also was urged.

COLLEGE IS ASSET
"You can help Lawrence college," he said, "by resisting and answering the complaint that the college is an incubus on the community and doesn't pay taxes. The college of liberal arts registers 187 people who give their home as Appleton and we spend annually $25,000 to educate these children above what they pay in tuition fees. That alone ought to answer the tax argument, for it is no different than handling the city a gift of that amount. We also have 208 Appleton students in the conservatory. Besides that the college, its students and teachers spend at least $750,000 in this city every year."

Dr. Plantz urged business men to help students find employment, for he says, "you never know which of these men you call college rough necks walking your streets may enter into the council of the nations and ascend to places of power. We have records of hundreds who have done so."

Rosebush outlined many reasons why industries might ask preferential treatment from the chamber of commerce, such as relief from general and income taxes, capital stock tax, and state enacted factory inspection. Yet none of these is requested, he said. The manufacturers did ask, however, that a better spirit be shown toward industry in Wisconsin especially, because the present attitude arouses antagonism that prevents development and may drive away the talent and leadership that makes the industries what they are. He declared that he could name among his own acquaintances men with fortunes of ten million dollars who had changed residence to another state because of this spirit. It is a choice between men who are successful in a big way for the Fox River valley, and men who are mediocre.

IMPROVE PARTS
Recommendation to the new park commission to negotiate for removal of the railroad track running through Bellaire park, and for its immediate Improvement because it is one of the most beautiful spots in Appleton, was made by Mr. Steele in his talk. He then told of negotiations with railroad companies for a union depot here, saying the Soo line was willing to join in establishing a station at Appleton Junction, but that the Chicago and Northwestern hesitated because of the fear that petitioners would lead the railroad commission to order use of Appleton-st depot again after it had been abandoned in favor of one at the junction. Four depots could be consolidated into one, he said, and the saving would pay for the new building. He also said the store of which he is president is removing its billboard from highways and if an anti-billboard bill is not introduced at Madison next year he will sponsor one that also would prohibit overhanging street signs.

There is a field in which the chamber of commerce can work, said Dr. Kinsman, if there is a close connection between the city water intake and the sewage outlet. The chamber also should work for garbage disposal to remove danger to health. Taxes cannot be increased much by so doing, he said. People must be made to love the city, and adoption of the city plan will help, he said. He then quoted figures of the coal waste from smoke and the cost of overcoming damages to homes as a result. There would be universal rejoicing if this nuisance could be removed, he declared.

URGES FARM MEETINGS
Mr. Meitz declared that the chamber could help the farmer by prescribing a remedy for the present economic situation, perhaps by bringing in expert speakers. He also urged continuance of the summer community meetings, an said farmers would appreciate completion of the park, because that is where the rural park-land goes to, and, relief from home daudery. He then told of the foot and mouth disease breaking out in California and told of its previous ravages in the middlewest in 1914. He said it was well to start now to prevent it from coming into this section, because it would ruin the cattle industry in the best center in the United States.

The Chicago and Northwestern cattle loading yard is a disgrace, he said, and ought to be cleaned up to protect tuberculin-tested cattle that are brought there. Much livestock could be shipped out from the Soo line from Appleton if a cattle yard were provided there.

Leonard S. Smith, city planner, declared the saddest thing about the city plan situation was that so few people had read it, even including city officials. Publication would help remedy this and bring about its adoption, he believed, and urged the chamber to finance this. He told of a number of things the plan outlines for accomplishment here.

MINISTERS PREACH AT NOON MEETINGS

Three meetings were held at industrial plants at noon Tuesday. They were at Appleton Wood Products company, Northern Boiler Structural Iron Works, and the Patten Paper company. The speakers were the Rev. J. L. Menzner, the Rev. E. W. Wright and Dr. H. E. Peabody. There was also a 100 per cent attendance of men who do not go home for their lunch at each meeting.

The only meeting Wednesday noon was at the Valley Iron Works and was conducted by Dr. J. A. Holmes. The meetings are being held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., co-operating with the churches.

At Milwaukee Meeting
George H. Bockley, secretary of Appleton Building and Loan association, is spending Tuesday in Milwaukee attending a special meeting of Milwaukee building and loan associations. The program is being broadcasted from Gimbel department store.

COMPLIMENT MAYOR FOR HIS EFFORTS ON SCHOOL BOARD

Board of Education Thanks Reuter for His Work As His Term Expires

The board of education Monday afternoon unanimously adopted by a rising vote a resolution expressing appreciation for the services rendered Mayor Henry Reuter during his term as president of the board.

"We are all prone to criticize our neighbors," said Paul V. Cary in introducing the resolution, "and especially criticize those in public positions, and it is all too seldom that we are ready to express our appreciation of service well done. It is rather customary when we have something good to say about a person to say it after he is dead."

"I have felt for some time this board has been rendered unusual and valuable service by our mayor and chairman. This is the last meeting with which he will honor us and I think it is due to him and I think this board will take pleasure in expressing its appreciation for the unusual way in which he has presided over this board."

The resolution reads: "Whereas, The administration of the City of Appleton will undergo various changes Tuesday, including the retirement of our present mayor and chairman of this board, the Honorable Henry Reuter, and

"Whereas, During the period which just passed, being the period which Mr. Reuter has presided over the meetings of this board, not only with the utmost impartiality, fairness and courtesy, but has also in a marked and unusual degree as an individual member of the board, given his services and assistance in the many complex problems which have come before the board and the committee thereof, bringing to bear upon these problems his well recognized business ability; and his cooperation with the members of the board at all times with an enlightened and far seeing vision for the interests of the schools, taxpayers and children of our city, now, therefore, it is hereby

"Resolved, That the board of education, upon the retirement of Mayor Reuter, tender its sincere thanks to him for the fair, impartial and courteous manner in which he has presided over the deliberations of this board, and especially for the valuable assistance and services rendered as a member thereof."

"I thank you for your kind words of consideration," said the mayor. "Although I don't think I deserve them. When I came in here I thought it was my duty to work for the best interests of the public schools. I don't know to what extent my services were appreciated, but whatever I have done has been for the interest of the schools."

The contest was conducted by Miss Vivian Morrow for her pupils in the Third district and St. Mary school. The prizes were tickets to the production.

Stores Are Full Of Clever Novelties For Easter Season

There are plenty of novelties and toys with which to gladden the hearts of children this Easter for the stores are filled with a variety of things. The Easter bunny means almost as much to most children as Santa Claus and he brings things that are just as nice. Easter baskets can be just as much more attractive with some of the novelties that stores are displaying now.

Easter just isn't Easter unless bunnies have a prominent place, so it isn't unusual that most of the stores, in fact all that cater to youngsters, have a large display of them. There are rabbits of almost every size and description. Large fat rabbits made of cotton batten, small ones of paper mache that can be opened and filled with candy, rabbits of fuzzy wool and rabbits of rubber that blow up like balloons. But we can't leave out the candle bunnies, for they are featured almost as much as the others. Some of the chocolate figures are hollow, others are of cream coated with chocolate and still others are of chocolate with eyes made of candy.

NESTS FOR BUNNY
And the baskets! It is so easy to have a pretty basket this year in which to put the Easter eggs. Ten cents will buy a small or large basket and you can add them more attractive. No need now to use straw or pull last year's dry grass from the ground in order to provide a lining or nest for the basket, for you can get artificial "grass" in local stores that will do nicely. The price usually is five cents a bag.

It isn't only bunnies that are made of candy, but also the things they are supposed to bring. Marshmallow eggs coated with chocolate, chocolate eggs with soft cream centers, eggs with cherries or nuts inside, in fact eggs that ought to make even the most efficient of hens ashamed.

Some of the stores are showing things that for decorating tables for Easter, and with the variety of small novelties it ought to be easy to combine things for clever decorations. Colored crepe paper, small rabbits and chickens and nests of novelty "grass" are some suggestions that might work out.

FUZZY CHICKENS, TOO
It would never do to forget the chickens, for they are as much a part of Easter as the rabbits. The chickens are made of the same material that the rabbits are, but occasionally you find some of paper mache with real feathers "dressing" them up.

If you want to give a pleasant surprise to some child why not get one of the paper eggs that are constructed like a candy box and fill it with candy? You can do the same things with chickens and rabbits.

There are any number of beautiful Easter greeting cards on display now. For Easter is an appropriate time to wish another year as Christmas or New Year. The prices range from a few cents to 50 cents. One Easter bunny on a card hides a bag of candy, a rubber bulb attached to the bill of a duck on a greeting makes him squak in a realistic manner.

Then one of the stores is displaying rabbits and chickens that when properly manipulated run for 50 feet. These are quite expensive, but are some of the nicest of Easter toys. Most of the other toy rabbits cost 5 cents apiece and up.

NAME COMMITTEE TO STUDY LIONS' BAND PROPOSAL

Two New Teachers Engaged by Board of Education for High School

The employment of two new teachers, Miss Margaret Abraham, daughter of Mrs. H. W. Abraham, and Miss Dorothy Dunn of Marinette for the coming year was announced at the meeting of the board of education at Appleton high school Monday afternoon. The former will teach history and the latter will be in the English department. One resignation, that of Miss Ruth Harper, who expects to teach in Madison the coming year, was presented.

Very few changes were made in salaries paid to teachers. Increases were granted to a few newcomers whose entrance salaries were low. Comparisons with other cities showed salaries here slightly below the general average.

A committee from the Lions club composed of B. J. Rohan, Arthur Schell and Earl L. Baker appeared before the board to present the club's proposal to donate $1,000 for instruments for a high school band. Mr. Rohan told of the benefit that would be derived from such an organization and said the object of the committee in appearing before the board was to secure the appointment of a committee of the board to go over the ground with a committee from the Lions club and work out the proposition jointly.

Mr. Schell attended a concert given by the Green Bay high school band a few evenings ago and was enthusiastic over the program. Mayor Henry Reuter appointed A. G. Koch, John E. Hantschel and Lee C. Rasey as a committee to study the proposal.

Attention was called by Mr. Rasey to the grade of the sidewalk of the west side junior high school which was causing the architects some trouble but said it was being worked out by City Engineer R. M. Connelly. The survey was made by a surveyor who was called in after the resignation of City Engineer Oscar F. Weisgerber and before the appointment of Mr. Connelly and establishes the grade 12 or 13 inches higher than the walk.

The transfer of all matters concerning construction work on the new junior high schools by the board of education to the board of architects more or less confusion and delay was caused by the resignation of Mr. Rasey. Mr. Cary and A. S. Galpin was appointed by the chairman to confer with the board of public works for the purpose of straightening out matters.

Bills amounting to $1,329.77 were allowed. The truancy officer's report was submitted and showed that 29 cases of truancy were investigated during the previous month.

RECORD NUMBER OF TEACHERS AT INSTITUTE HERE

Rural School Mentors Agree on Dates for Town Elimination Contests

The county teachers institute which was held in the courthouse Friday and Saturday was very encouraging to the county education department in point of attendance. There were about 170 teachers present and this included all the teachers of state graded schools and all but three of the rural school teachers, two of whom were detained by sickness. The attendance sets a record for teachers institutes.

Several changes in regard to town contests for field days and commencement day events were decided upon by the teachers. Believing that two elimination contests, one in field events and the other in school subjects, would interfere too much with the routine of school work, the teachers agreed upon one day for both classes of contests.

Both the elimination contests prior to field day and the elimination contests preparatory to commencement day will be held in the various towns on May 2. The rate for the town field contests had previously been fixed at May 16, and the other town contests at April 25. No change has been made in the date of the county field day which will be May 23. The date for commencement for county schools is June 6.

MENASHA IN ROW OVER ELECTION

Menasha—This city has a contest to determine which of two factions is at the head of the city's administration, as result of the announced determination of Mayor M. M. Schoetz, defeated by N. G. Remmel at the recent spring elections, to carry on his fight to contest the vote of the regular municipal election Apr. 1. Mayor Schoetz has demanded a recount of votes cast and charges that the election was illegally conducted.

The old council met and canvassed the vote, declaring Mr. Remmel elected and authorizing the city clerk to present certificates of election to the several successful candidates.

Mayor Schoetz told members of the council they took this action "at their own peril" and promised to carry the fight to the highest court in the state, if necessary. Mr. Remmel won out by a majority of 17 votes.

PATROLMEN WON'T BE DEPUTY SHERIFFS

None of the road patrolmen of Outagamie will be appointed deputy sheriffs with power to enforce the traffic laws, according to A. G. Brusewitz, county highway commissioner.

Although a law recently was passed making it possible to invest road patrolmen with authority of deputy sheriffs, a number of counties are not enthusiastic over the law.

Mr. Brusewitz believes that both the taxpayers of the county and the traveling public would rather see the patrolmen devote their time to road maintenance work than wasting it chasing after speeding automobiles.

Road patrolmen are not equipped to give pursuit to racing motorists, since most patrolmen have only a team of horses to work with. Traffic cops can be more effectively enforced by motorcycle officers, Mr. Brusewitz says. The highway commissioner himself is a deputy sheriff, but he has little inclination to pursue automobile speeders, he said.

FEW APPLICATIONS FOR PASSPORTS TO EUROPE

There has been a marked decrease in the usual number of requests for passports recently, according to the records of Harry A. Shannon, clerk of circuit court. A passport was issued a short time ago, but was the first obtained in many weeks. Since the first of the year Mr. Shannon has handled only three applications for passports. Most passports are from persons who desire to visit relatives in the "old country." Tourist ocean travel does not seem to be very active as yet.

U. OF W. GETS CHAPTER OF NATIONAL FRATERNITY

Phi Kappa Tau fraternity, which has one of its 25 chapters at Lawrence college, has granted a chapter at the University of Wisconsin which will be installed April 24, 25 and 26. The installation degree team of which George Meacham of Lawrence college is a member will have charge of the installation and initiation of members. The name of the local fraternity of the university which has been honored with the national chapter is Alpha Theta Pi, organized at Madison in the spring of 1922.

RUSH OF PULPWOOD TO VALLEY HAS ABATED

The rush of pulpwood to the mills of Fox river valley has about subsided for the present. A few carloads arrive daily but not enough to require the services of Trainmaster Phil Gaudette of Antigo, who has returned home. Later in the season wood rafted across Lake Superior will commence to arrive from Ashland.

230 YOUNGSTERS IN 40 PIG CLUBS

Rural School Pupils Organize to Promote Hog Raising

Organization of pig clubs among the pupils of the various school districts of Outagamie-co has practically been completed, although new members still may enter. Forty schools have organized pig clubs to date, and the aggregate membership of these 40 clubs is 230 pupils.

Members of the clubs are busy on the preliminary work. The real work of raising pigs for the fall market will commence in a few weeks. The first lessons and the record books have already been forwarded to the members by R. A. Amundson, county agricultural agent. These first lessons give minute instructions on the selection of pigs. The pupils also are asked to study the record books so that they will be thoroughly familiar with them before they buy pigs. Instructions on the proper care of pigs, etc., will be given in future series of lessons.

The pig club plan contemplates the purchase of a small pig in spring with funds borrowed on a note from a bank, and raising the pigs for the fall market. The clubs will group together and market their pigs through farmers cooperative shipping associations, the proceeds from the sale will be used to pay the note due at the bank and the profits will be pocketed by the pig club members.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

Law enforcement is a matter of common discussion these days. A large number of citizens are justly concerned about the prevalent disregard and violation of law. The other day a delegation of women representing a national conference for law enforcement called upon the president, who made this timely observation to them, "It is very easy to enact legislation. We have state legislatures and the national congress, that each year put upon the statute books thousands upon thousands of enactments to regulate and control our conduct. But it is of no avail unless behind it there is a sentiment that will enforce."

We think the people have lost sight of this fundamental truth in their quiet acquiescence, if not actual encouragement, of the legislative flood precipitated on the country in recent years. As the president says, it is an easy matter to pass laws. Any organization or group which wants an act to promote its theories or purposes finds it an easy matter to get action if it is all militant and determined. The other nine-tenths of the people who have no direct interest are indifferent, and the law-making body to obtain a few votes passes the bill. We could recite laws by the hundreds that were passed with no intention of enforcement, not only in Wisconsin but in every other state and at Washington.

From time to time a law gets on the statute books over which there is a serious division of public opinion. Sometimes it is extreme and goes farther than public opinion will support. When this happens the law is soon in disrepute and our executives, police departments and courts are afraid to undertake to enforce it. This is clearly the case with the prohibition law, which we think went too far, with the result that it is in its ultimate purposes a dead letter. Booze is more plentiful and more easily obtained today than it was the first year after the constitutional amendment was enacted, and it is growing more plentiful and the manner in which the law is pretended to be enforced is a farce.

We have attempted to write too much morality and regulation of personal conduct and conscience into law. We have placed on our statute books a plethora of legislation that could have no other effect than to break down enforcement and to cultivate disrespect for law. While our legislatures are primarily responsible for this, the real responsibility is with a citizenship which countenances the enactment of ill-considered and nonsensical laws. No law will be enforced without public opinion demanding its enforcement, and no law should be enacted until major opinion is sufficiently clear and strong to guarantee its enforcement. Furthermore, until the public at large is willing to obey a law it is idle to attempt to compel obedience.

OUR LOW DEATH RATE

Wisconsin showed the lowest death rate in 1923 among its city-dwelling wage earners of any state east of the Mississippi River, according to death claim figures of a leading insurance company. It ranked seventh among all the states of the Union, its low death rate of 6.4 per 1,000 white industrial policyholders having been beaten only by Utah, Idaho, Oregon, Washington, Montana and Nebraska, and having been well below the average, 8.2 per 1,000, for the urban wage earning group of the United States as a whole.

It ranked first among the states of its own geographical division, the east north central, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan all showing rates higher than 7 per 1,000. In fact, Michigan and Indiana touched eight.

Industrial policyholders, including men, women and children, live almost altogether in the cities and in such localities they compose practically one-quarter of the entire wage-earning population. In some states this proportion is even higher; but in all they form a sufficiently large sample of the whole to represent fairly accurately the conditions which prevail among urban dwellers.

The figures take on an added significance when it is remembered that for years insurance companies, in an endeavor to lengthen life, have carried on organized health work among industrial policyholders. Measured in terms of lives, the improvement in industrial mortality in 1923 over 1911 means a saving of 52,600 lives.

AN AMERICAN IMMIGRATION BILL

By a vote of 322 to 71 the house has passed the immigration restriction bill introduced by Rep. Albert Johnson of Washington. It fixes future quotas from each foreign country on the basis of 2 per cent of the nationals of that country resident in the United States in 1890. The law now in operation permits quotas based on 3 per cent of the nationals resident in the country in 1910. It will cut the number of immigrants entering the United States annually approximately in two, and the change from the 1910 to the 1890 basis is for the avowed purpose of reducing the proportion of aliens from southern and eastern Europe in favor of immigrants from northern and western Europe.

The bill is by far the strictest measure of the kind ever passed by congress and provides among other things that the burden of proof is on an alien to establish that he is not subject to exclusion, and in deportation proceedings to prove that he entered the United States lawfully. It was the opinion of the committee, which has been ratified by the house, that the regulation of immigration proposed is essential to the public welfare and to the effective assimilation and nationalization of alien newcomers.

To our mind, one of the strongest arguments in favor of the bill was the fact that certain races affected by it are now strong enough to have representatives in the house who obviously pleaded for the interests of the countries from which they came rather than for the interests of the United States. For many years prior to the war foreigners were being dumped in this country at the rate of more than a million a year. The bars were completely down. It was a mistaken and shortsighted policy, tolerated on the plea of our requirements for cheap labor on the mock sentimentalism that America should be an asylum for foreigners dissatisfied with their governments and their environment.

The last twenty years have proved that it was a colossal blunder of the United States to make itself the dumping ground for an influx of aliens who concentrated in our industrial centers, and who by reason of low intelligence, susceptibility to radical political teachings and other objectionable qualities, were undesirable and ought never to have been admitted. Today we are reaping the fruits of this mistaken policy in the revolutionary propaganda which finds these aliens still alien-minded and ripe for hatred of and prejudice toward our institutions and government.

The first right of the United States, and its first duty, is to keep this nation and its government in the form and purposes for which they were created. The incorporation of race colonies and anti-America groups within its boundaries is a wrong to the American people that ought to be corrected. The new immigration restrictions contained in the Johnson bill will help to do this. It would be all right if we had had the capacity to digest the mass of aliens cast on our shores, but the mass was insoluble to too large a degree.

We want only persons to come here from other countries who desire and are willing to subscribe to our institutions and to become good American citizens. The others we do not want and should rigidly bar. There are sufficient guides from our experiences of the past to be able to draw this line intelligently. If the rest of the world wants bolsheviks and peoples who refuse to abandon their race prejudices and who consider loyalty to their origin more important than allegiance to free government, that is their privilege, but such persons will never make good American citizens, and we have too many of them as it is.

We think the house has given needless offense to Japan by incorporating in the bill the so-called "gentleman's agreement," has been satisfactorily kept by the Japanese government and has worked out well. Our sensitiveness, particularly that of California, on the subject of Japanese immigration which is now infinitesimal, is petty. There is no occasion to needlessly offend Japan, and it would be better not to do so. Otherwise the bill passed by the house is admirable and ought to become a law.

FAINTING AND SHOCK

What makes people faint?
A sudden fall of blood pressure from emotion, shock or hemorrhage or illness is the immediate cause of fainting. The withdrawal of the usual supply of blood to the brain centers makes the victim lose consciousness; everything goes black or blank, and he sinks down in a faint. Usually the face is pale; the breathing is shallow; the pulse is weak, and the victim is relaxed or limp, responding to the faintest word or touch. It is a question of seconds before he recovers. It is a miserable "all gone" sensation.
Shock is the same or similar state induced by an injury. The physical injury may be very slight, but if the circumstances under which the injury occurs are calculated to inspire terror, fear or horror, the degree of shock may nevertheless be great and the victim's chance of recovery correspondingly reduced. The element of fear plays an important role. In shock and contributes to many fatalities. We fear many things until we come to know something about them. Operations, for instance. And snakes.

First aid for fainting or shock:
1. Give the victim something to drink.
2. Loosen any constricting clothing.
3. Keep the head low. Raise any part of the body but the head.
4. Dash or sprinkle very cold water over forehead, face or chest. Apply warmth, or heat to feet and under the arms.
5. Rub the limbs toward the heart if at all.
6. If the patient can swallow, administer a dose of aromatic spirits of ammonia or some hot coffee, or some hot tea. Cold water is best if these stimulants are not at hand. Never give alcohol (whiskey or brandy) in fainting or shock, for outside of old time novels these depressants add to the risk of a fatal outcome. The circulation needs stimulating; the mind needs stimulating. Alcohol produces just the opposite effects.

The proper dose of aromatic spirits of ammonia is half a teaspoonful, diluted in about one-fourth of a glassful of cold water. This may be given from the glass without raising the patient's head more than an inch or two, or from a spoon without raising the head at all. The dose may be repeated every fifteen or twenty minutes for several times, if necessary.

A simple maneuver which will often prevent fainting or relieve one from a slight fainting spell consists in flexing the body so that the thighs press upon the abdomen. If the subject is sitting, he need only bend forward as far as possible and allow the head to hang down in front of the knees for a few moments. This maneuver forces considerable blood from the splanchnic pool, a vast network of vessels within the abdomen, out into the circulation, and thus tends to restore the pressure in the vessels of the head.

Aromatic spirits of ammonia may be given just as effectively to a patient who cannot swallow, by pouring it on the hand and handkerchief and holding it close to the nose so that the patient will inhale it. Absorbed in this way it is just as good a circulatory stimulant as it is when swallowed.

In fainting or shock the skin of the victim is cold and clammy and the body temperature is generally below the normal. In applying heat, by means of hot water bottles, hot sand or salt bags, hot flat-irons, or other carriers of heat, care must be taken not to burn the patient—try the heat on your own skin first.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Tuesday, April 15, 1899.

S. G. Marshall was at Green Bay on business.

Miss Madge Keefe returned from a two months visit at Medford.

H. A. Finger of Eagle River was an Appleton business visitor.

The spring term of circuit court was being held at the courthouse.

Stanley G. Logan sold his candy store to H. W. Granger.

Word from Chicago was to the effect that Dr. Woodward, who had been dangerously ill with blood poisoning, was out of danger.

Arthur E. Irwin was to be ordained at the Baptist church the following Wednesday evening.

David Hodgins of Hortonville was elected chairman of the county board of supervisors.

The residence of John Breiterick of the town of Ellington was destroyed by fire, the origin of which was unknown.

J. H. Green & Sons returned from St. Ignace, Mich., where they cut 15,000 cords of pulpwood for the paper manufacturers of the Fox River valley.

Farmers who were holding their potatoes for higher prices were disposing of them at 30 cent per bushel.

TEN YEARS AGO
Tuesday, April 14, 1914.

James E. Lyons of Colby, formerly of Appleton, was re-elected mayor of Colby for the fourth term.

Mr. and Mrs. William Harper, who spent the winter in California, were expected in Appleton early in May for a visit of several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Freeman returned from a several weeks' visit to the Old Point Comfort.

It was conservatively estimated that 100 new automobiles were added to the list of those owned in Appleton since the disappearance of the snow.

Application for marriage licenses were made to the county clerk by William C. Jacobson of Neenah and Miss Hazel Lutz of Appleton; Roy C. Dickey of DePere and Miss Grace F. Phillips of Kaukauna; and Frank M. Ohlman of Irwin, Pa., and Miss Irene Spitz of Appleton.

Excavation for the addition to the Wolf building on College-ave was completed and masons were busy on the foundation work.

SEEN, HEARD and IMAGINED

---that's all there is to life

Howdy, folks! To cure that case of spring fever, why not try a jolting drive in a springless driver?

APRIL ACTS A GOOD DEAL THAT WAY. WHEN IT IS UNCERTAIN WHETHER TO ACT LIKE A LAMB OR LIKE A LION IT JUST RATTLES LIKE A DINKY DELIVERY CAR.

POOR MARY

Our Mary in the churchyard lies. Beneath green trees and sunny skies. Her Ford refused to climb a pole—That's why she's now in such a hole. —KAISER BILL

The county clerk is ready to quit. Last month there were five divorces as compared with four marriages. What's the use for him to build up when the divorce courts tear down faster than he can build? Which shows that although lenter marriages may be frowned upon by ascetics there is no ban on divorces.

It's a Great Cosmo

"In order to find this cosmic ego, or universal self, first removes all limited egoism." From the Vedanta philosophy, as quoted by the Cosmo-politan News service in a Milwaukee newspaper. Isn't that a beautiful thought? Why shouldn't it be beautiful with the use of cosmetics in the transformation of self? But before you apply the cosmetic ego, be sure to scrape off all-traces of limited egoism.

A girl who has no 'cosmetic ego' usually will try to make up for it in other ways.

There is great activity in the marriage market these days in spite of what the pessimists say. The activity consists in making and changing one's mind.

An Appleton man sat at a telephone yesterday for fifteen minutes without saying a word other than "Hello." After the 15 minutes he was heard to utter, "Ten." Seven minutes later he said, "All right," and then hung up the receiver. The young man is known to be unmarried. The mystery is who the heck was on the other end of the wire?

Fire Trains Shield Rail Snow Sheds

Fighting fires within the restricted area of a city is a different matter from fighting fires along hundreds of miles of railroad tracks. The city fire department can reach its objective within a few minutes. The fire fighters aboard the special train must not only get the right of way to reach the scene of the reported fire, but it may be ten miles or 50 miles away.

The Southern Pacific's properties extend over more than 7,000 miles of line on the Pacific system. Much of it is in lonely and unsettled places. Naturally, there are many problems that the fire chief of a city fire department never has to face.

The greatest fire hazard that the company has is its long line of snow sheds over the Sierras to Ogden. It may well be said that there has been more concentrated effort to prevent fires in these sheds than on any other single item of railroad property.

On the American canon route over the Sierras a snowfall of 65 feet has been recorded in one season. Where the average seasonal snowfall runs over 200 inches, snowsheds are necessary in order to maintain regular train service, and so between Elbe Canon, at an elevation of 4,700 feet, and a point just west of Truckee, with an elevation of 6,000 feet, a distance of 40 miles, there are 23 miles of snow sheds.

The fire fighting apparatus consists of four trains, each equipped with one 350-gallon-per-minute pump, two water cars holding about 25,000 gallons of water, nearly a quarter of a mile of heavy hose, and all the other equipment needed to fight a severe fire.

It takes but a short time to get a fire train under way—a few minutes is enough. When once started on a clear track, there are no speed restrictions. The promptness is made possible because steam is kept up on the fire-train engines at all times and crews are on duty both day and night.

Some few years ago, with watchmen located in the sheds only, formidable forest fires could obtain considerable headway in the snowshed district before they were discovered. This led to a search for a point on a commanding elevation from which watchers could have a bird's-eye view of the entire district. The searchers selected a point at the top of Red Mountain—Signal Peak, as the government calls it. Here, four miles from Cisco, a stone observatory was built, and during the season when there is danger from fires, a 24-hour vigil is kept.

Queer Sources Of Dust In Eyes

(From The London Mail)

There are few people who have never experienced the pain of discomfort that comes of getting dust particles in the eyes. Fewer still, it is safe to say, realize the true source of some of these irritating obstructions.

Tell the average person that it is possible to collect in the eyes the dust of a falling star and you will probably be disbelieved. Yet microscopic examination has shown this to be a fact. When a meteor reaches our atmosphere it discharges heavy vapors, which condense into myriads of minute particles, any one of which may lodge in the eye that is gazing skyward.

Volcanic eruptions may cause discomfort in a similar fashion. Lava flowing from an active crater gives off clouds of vapour containing microscopic particles that make their way around the world in the upper air currents, ultimately to fall in showers

Q: What is meant by a "wilderness" in the Bible? J. G. S.

A: The Dictionary of the Bible, published by Scribner says that the word wilderness or desert suggests to English readers ideas which are foreign to the Hebrew word so translated. The word midbar occurs about 230 times in the Old Testament. It is translated wilderness in the Authorized Version, except in 12 passages where the word is desert. Midbar is probably a tract to which herds are driven, an uncultivated region, but upon the earth, where wide-open eyes may easily collect them.

Again, the great deserts contribute largely to the number of foreign bodies gathered in this way. Sandstorms do not cease from troubling immediately they subside. Their particles are borne by the winds of the world over, many of them finding lodgment in our eyes, as the microscope has repeatedly proved.

Pollen from the big pine forests of Canada may effect us in like manner, while an even more strange, though not less potent, cause of this special form of irritation is the scales of butterflies' wings, shed as a rule during the first flights after emerging from the pupa.

The sources and variety of things gathered in the eyes during a normal lifetime are, in fact, amazing, and form an astounding commentary on the disintegrating forces unceasingly at work in the universe.

Unusual People

MARRIED FOR 75 YEARS

MR. AND MRS. O. P. CHAMBERLAIN

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Chamberlain of Ball Mountain, near Pontiac, Mich., have been married 75 years and they're still happy, healthy and contented. He is 86 and she's 83. Their secret to happy married life is: Work hard, live simply, don't let other folk's affairs bother you too much, and keep your own home sufficient to itself.

one where pasturage, however scanty, may be found.

Q: Where were the oldest ship models originally deposited? L. M. A.

A: E. K. Chatterton says, that omitting the Egyptian tomb examples, the oldest ship-models were those hung in churches.

Q: Kindly send me the rules governing the egg-rolling contest played on the White House lawn on Easter Monday. N. L. H.

A: The Superintendent of Grounds says that so far as he knows there are no rules governing the egg-rolling on the White House grounds. Many contests take place, but these are entirely unofficial.

Q: Is there a fur-bearing animal called nutria? T. W. T.

A: Nutria is the fur taken from the coypu, a South American aquatic rodent.

Q: Is wool and hair the same sort of thing? R. E. A.

A: Wool is a living appendage of the skin, produced by increased epidermal cells. The difference between wool and hair is one of degree rather than of kind.

Q: In a four-handed game of horseshoe pitching, can one partner advise the other? A. F. T.

A: Partners may coach each other. Other contestants or onlookers are forbidden to coach a player or interfere in any manner with the pitcher during the progress of the game.

Q: If William J. Bryan were elected President next fall, would he be the oldest man to take the office? O. C.

A: William Henry Harrison was still head the list. He was 68 years old when inaugurated, while Mr. Bryan will be 63 on the 15th of next March.

Q: How many factories are there in San Francisco? M. S.

A: There are 2350 factories in San Francisco.

Q: Is there a place that people send money because they have at some time cheated the Government? J. G.

A: The "Conscience Fund" is a popular name referring to money received from persons who have cheated the Government.

SCIENCE ADDS TO MINERAL WEALTH

Dr. Bagg Tells Lions How Geologists Contribute to Prosperity

Tribute was paid to adventurous prospectors who risk their lives in the hope of finding riches in unexplored lands by Dr. R. M. Bagg, head of the department of geology of Lawrence college, in an address on the relation of geology to business before Appleton Lions club Monday noon. Dr. Bagg briefly described how important deposits of valuable metals were found, partly through accident and partly through geological knowledge.

Dr. Bagg told of the recovery of large quantities of valuable metals and minerals, heretofore regarded as waste or of such poor quality as to be unprofitable, by discovery of new processes by chemists and geologists. He said that mineral and metal deposits that today are considered worthless tomorrow may be of inestimable value because of new processes of working the deposits. He showed maps and surveys to illustrate how the country is being surveyed to determine the quantity and quality of minerals under the earth. It was announced that candidates for officers of the club are to be nominated at the next meeting and that election are to be held on Monday, May 5.

Fred Nixon of Milwaukee called on Appleton friends Monday.

SMITH CONDEMNS UNIFORMITY OF AMERICAN CITIES

Appleton City Planner Tells Home Builders That Towns Lack Individuality

Leonard S. Smith, Madison, city planner, gave an illustrated lecture on city planning, house planning and beautifying cities at the final meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Home Builders class Monday night at the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Smith had a collection of slides showing conditions in this country and Europe and also many that were made from photographs taken in Appleton.

The speaker emphasized the necessity of building houses and brought out the point that rents will never come down unless more houses are built. One million marriages occur every year in the United States and there should be that many houses built.

Mr. Smith showed examples of architecture in the United States and compared it with architecture in other countries. In this country they are just houses, none complimentary to the other. He said that we ought to have homes built to emphasize and compliment houses near to it, and not have an Italian villa next to a house of Queen Anne type. In some sections of the country people are doing this, making courts of their land, building their houses so that one doesn't spoil the effect of the others and planning the grounds so that the best and most beautiful effects may be gained.

ALL CITIES ALIKE
Here in America, Mr. Smith said, towns are all alike. Appleton is like Oshkosh, Oshkosh is like Fond du Lac, and so on. The houses all face the same way, the streets are regular and lots are all the same size. There is nothing beautiful about cities built this way, he declared.

All streets should have a beginning and an end, but there are few streets in Appleton that suggest it. He showed slides of cities where all streets were marked at the beginning and end with gateways or markers. This Mr. Smith said, suggests that you are turning into something more than a street or highway, for it gives the impression that you are entering a residential section, a city, some thing that is more than a mere street.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Read How Mrs. Walsh Was Helped by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mannington, W. Virginia.—"I took the Vegetable Compound when having the turn of life. I had been sick for seven years. I would get a little better, then I would break down again. It would be hard for me to describe how I was, for I was a perfect wreck. I suffered with a pain in my left side, then I would have numb spells, and I would think I couldn't live. I would have hot flashes, then would come weak spells. I was so weak I would think I couldn't ever get a meal ready. My work was a burden to me. I was not able to do my housework half of the time. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has given me strength and health. The hot flashes left me and I got better of the numb spells. That summer I could do my housework and worked in the garden a good bit. I tell all sick women what your wonderful medicine did for me, and will always recommend it. I am known to all my neighbors, and you can believe this statement because it is true."

IMPROVE BACK YARDS

With his slides Mr. Smith illustrated how to arrange home and grounds, gave examples of architecture, the building of terraces and arrangements of back yards. Back yards were another thing that he emphasized. Most people, he said, are ashamed to take others into the back yard, but it might be made into one of the "best rooms in the house." Shrubs, trees, garden furniture all can be used to a good advantage in the usually disregrated back yards.

Another thing that was brought up was the uniformity of a sky line. Mr. Smith pointed out bad features in many-storied buildings, showed they broke the regularity of the sky line and said that after they were built the owners were not always able to rent them. This led to discussion on the part of the audience of local buildings and contemplated buildings that would be higher than the average.

Mr. Smith illustrated with charts and photographs proper ways of building, how to build roads and streets so that the proper amount of sunlight might be given each house. He suggested that Appleton buy the land between Alcoa park and Pierce park and use it for a river shore drive.

KAUKAUNA SCHOOLS CLOSE FOR BRIEF VACATION

Kaukauna—The city public schools will close Wednesday afternoon for the annual spring vacation and will open again next Tuesday. Due to the fact that the schools were very late in starting last fall, the vacation will be cut shorter than usual. The Catholic schools also will close Wednesday for a three day holiday. Kaukauna vocational day school will be closed all this week.

RECONCILIATION FAILS, BADGER KILLS HIMSELF

Stevens Point, Wis.—Casper Hurreys, 41, paper mill fireman, was found dead in a woodshed at his home here on Tuesday. This followed Sunday threats at self-destruction after four unsuccessful visits to his home to effect a reconciliation with his wife.

A son and neighbor boy found the body. Howard Hanson of Dancy, 17, was instantly killed when his shotgun accidentally discharged as he stepped from a boat at the mouth of the Little Eau Claire river near the Portage-Marathon county line.

The hammer of his gun struck the boat, the entire discharge entering his heart.

A searching party scoured the woods for Hanson many hours before discovering the tragedy.

BIG CROWD PRESENT AT LIVESTOCK FAIR

FUND IS STARTED FOR NEW HOSPITAL

New London Committee Has $1,200 in Bank As Nest Egg for Project

New London—The movement for the establishment of a New London Memorial hospital, about which little has been heard recently, is not dead by any means those interested declare.

Approximately $1,200 already raised is now in a local bank and plans have been made to raise more money for the project.

A big card party will probably be given shortly after Easter in Knights of Columbus hall.

Plans have been to have the hospital a non-sectarian community institution, but managed by Sisters, under whose capable and efficient management community hospitals are nearly always successful.

The funds now on hand were raised in different ways. Some came from the Fourth of July celebration last year. An Equity dance netted $100. A home talent play staged by young people netted about $300, and the Lutheran Aid association contributed to the fund.

Mrs. J. W. Monsted has been acting as chairman of the committee, while E. C. Jost is treasurer and Mrs. C. D. Peathers secretary. Other committee members include: F. L. Zaug, Jack Burns, W. E. Milton, Dr. A. C. Borchardt, Thomas G. Roberts, J. P. Rosentreter, Dr. F. J. Pfeifer, and Mrs. George Ruppel.

TRACTION COMPANY GIRLS HAVE REST ROOM IN OFFICE

Extensive Remodeling of Utility Company's Office Nearly Completed

Twenty young women employed in the offices of the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company have been provided with a lounging and recreation room as part of the plan of rearrangement of the public utility building at 780 College-ave. All of the alterations have been completed except the remodeling of the display room on the main floor and the installation of a new store front.

The rest room is located on the third floor, at the center of the building. It is equipped with wicker furniture, including comfortable arm chairs and a davenport and has a reading table. One corner will be devoted to a kitchenette, with kitchen cabinet, and electric hot plate, toaster and percolator.

Lunches will be served at noon each day to about ten who do not go home for this meal. The girls also plan monthly suppers, with discussion periods of parties afterward. Two girls will be appointed each week to have charge of the rest room.

A spacious cloakroom and lavatory for the girls also is located on the third floor convenient to the rest room. The remainder of the floor is devoted to the engineering office at the front, an electric meter shop at the rear and the telephone switchboard operator's quarters.

All of the second floor is occupied by the business offices of the company. The front portion has been remodeled into a large private office for A. K. Ellis, general manager. The remainder is the accounting room, with a long row of double desks. Fixtures of light oak are installed in Mr. Ellis' office, and those in the accounting room are of steel.

Most of the ground floor will be used for a sales and display room for electrical and gas fixtures. The cashier's office, which was near the front previously, has been moved to the rear end of the salesroom. The back room formerly occupied by Mr. Ellis now houses the office of W. B. Montsommery, superintendent of the power lines.

Hope To Set Tradition For Appleton By Means Of "Messiah" Festival

Fame of Local Musical Undertakings Will Be Spread Abroad, Committee of Churches in Charge of Chorus
Hopes.

"Appleton, the city of great religious musical festivals."

A tradition couched in words somewhat like these is what the pastors, laymen, musical leaders and others who are working on the Easter community festival hope to achieve for this city, not only in presentation of Handel's "Messiah" by a chorus of 250 voices Easter Sunday and Monday, but by other projects of the future.

It is believed that those who come here from all parts of the valley to hear the choir program at 8:15 Sunday and Monday at Lawrence Memorial chapel will spread the word abroad as to the grandeur of musical programs here. A much larger attendance of outside people is expected at each succeeding undertaking.

BIGGEST EVENT YET

"The Messiah" is perhaps the biggest indoor musical undertaking ever undertaken in Appleton. It will mean the presentation of some of the most difficult of all choral music and will give those in charge a definite idea how much talent is available for work which will build the city's fame. Dean Carl J. Waterman, director of the oratorio, considers the city fortunate in having the tone quality for "The Messiah" that has been shown in this chorus, made up from church choirs, Lawrence college Glee club and Cantorum and Appleton Maennerchor. The orchestra of 25 pieces joining the organ played by P. A. Taber, Jr., is an accompaniment, will add to the unusual quality of the music.

Pastors and laymen of various Appleton churches did some splendid work in organizing for Mr. Waterman the band of singers whom he has trained in weekly rehearsals since the first of the year. They also have the business management and general pushing the sale of tickets for Monday's program as a means of raising $700 for the actual expenses.

GMELIN IS CHAIRMAN

Seymour Gmelin is chairman of the general laymen's committee of the festival and his assistants are A. R. Eads, secretary, and W. S. Smith, treasurer. Two pastors were appointed from the ministerial body to work with the committee. They are Dr. H. E. Peabody of First Congregational church and Dr. J. A. Holmes of First Methodist church.

Among other representatives of the churches are: All Saints Episcopal, Seymour Gmelin; German Methodist, Benjamin Gmelin; Emmanuel Evangelical, Arthur Erdmann; Memorial Presbyterian, W. S. Smith; First Methodist, H. G. Saecker; Baptist, A. R. Eads; First Congregational, Frank P. Young; Trinity English Lutheran, Edward Kuether; First English Lutheran, C. H. Huesemann; First Reformed, the Rev. D. P. Nuss; other Lutheran churches, W. H. Zuehlke, chairman of Lutheran musical events.

The Easter festival is designed neither for profit nor for entertainment, the committee declares but is a means of spreading abroad in the community a more deep seated sense of the importance of the Lenten season and its climax. It is intended to be a ministry to the masses by means of song and incidentally an Easter tradition as the plan is repeated year after year.

Tickets on sale at Belling drug store for Monday evening have begun to move rapidly.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Removed and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.
Every Druggist in this country is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenchu, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinges of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenchu has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of Allenchu, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenchu decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. Volgi's Drug Store, Schlitz Bros., Co. can supply you. adv.

NAVAL FLEET DUE TO CRUISE ON FOX

At least three and perhaps four of the United States naval vessels operating on the Great Lakes will pass through Appleton enroute to the regatta of the Mississippi River Valley Power Boat association on Lake Winnebago July 3, 4, and 5, according to word received by Appleton Motorboat club. These vessels, with their crews of naval reserves, have been invited to dock here for public inspection before proceeding further up the river from Green Bay to Lake Winnebago.

Power boat owners and those who found their pleasure with motorboats in the pre-automobile days are planning to be in Oshkosh during the regatta. They declare the races will be the most thrilling ever known in this locality because some of the craft afloat will be entered. There will be speed boats capable of 75 miles an hour. It is said.

The regatta will be part of a homecoming celebration which Oshkosh will stage at that time.

WISCONSIN BARLEY IS BEST IN WORLD

Dairy Farmers Urged to Raise Barley Because of Its
Qualities

One lone barley plant selected in 1898 from a plot of thousands and thousands of plants is the parent of all the purebred barley in Wisconsin. Wisconsin now leads the entire union in the production of high quality barley seed, according to R. A. Moore, college of agriculture.

Wisconsin's purebred barleys are heavy yielders of both grain and straw. Wisconsin barley has a high protein content and is the best feeding barley in the entire world.

"On good ground more pounds of barley can be grown than of oats or any other small grain. Barley is well known for its high protein content and should occupy an important place in the grain system of every dairy farm," says Mr. Moore.

"A dairy ration composed of alfalfa, silage and barley is considered to be an excellent ration," Moore states. "Dairy farmers will find it profitable to grow more barley. Members of the Wisconsin Experiment association have made it a special point to grow a large quantity of good seed and have large quantities of it for distribution to Wisconsin farmers."

county highway D. Representatives of the town of Deer Creek, the village of Bear Creek and the county highway commission will be present.

Qualities

One lone barley plant selected in 1898 from a plot of thousands and thousands of plants is the parent of all the purebred barley in Wisconsin. Wisconsin now leads the entire union in the production of high quality barley seed, according to R. A. Moore, college of agriculture.

Wisconsin's purebred barleys are heavy yielders of both grain and straw. Wisconsin barley has a high protein content and is the best feeding barley in the entire world.

"On good ground more pounds of barley can be grown than of oats or any other small grain. Barley is well known for its high protein content and should occupy an important place in the grain system of every dairy farm," says Mr. Moore.

"A dairy ration composed of alfalfa, silage and barley is considered to be an excellent ration," Moore states. "Dairy farmers will find it profitable to grow more barley. Members of the Wisconsin Experiment association have made it a special point to grow a large quantity of good seed and have large quantities of it for distribution to Wisconsin farmers."

TWIN CITIES WANT APPLETON TO PAY FOR NEW HIGHWAY

Favor Relocation of Route 15 But Object to Bearing Part of Cost

Objections of Menasha and Menasha people to Winnebago bearing a portion of the cost of relocating highway 15 so that it will enter Appleton over Cherry-st bridge is not based on opposition to changing the highway route but rather on Winnebago paying for an improvement which they believe is all for the benefit of Appleton. This was brought out at a mass meeting at Menasha city hall Monday evening. Attended by a large number of Menasha and Menasha people and by the Winnebago highway commission. A committee of ten men, five from Menasha and five from Neenah, is to be appointed to attend a public hearing on the relocation of highway 15 which the Winnebago highway commission will hold in Oshkosh on April 23.

FAVOR RELOCATION
Neenah and Menasha people are not at all displeased because Appleton has built a bridge which will shorten the route between Appleton and the Twin Cities and they have no objection to relocating the highway. In fact most of the speakers were glad it because the change eliminates the railroad crossings in the flats, but the did feel that Appleton and not Winnebago should pay for acquiring the right-of-way and building the road from the bridge to Foster-st. The Twin Cities will not offer objections to opening a road through the Lynch farm in Winnebago but believe Appleton should pay all the expenses.

$35,000 ESTIMATE
Most of the speakers estimated the cost of the new road through the Lynch farm, which is about 500 feet, at close to $35,000, although they all admitted that estimates now are difficult inasmuch as it has not been determined how much the right-of-way will cost.

Ludwig Gmelner, proprietor of the farm at Gmelner's corner made a proposition to the Winnebago board to donate one-half the right-of-way for a road through his farm if Highway 15 is extended straight north from Gmelner's corner to the Outagamie Co. line. He said the distance is about 1,000 feet. Mr. Gmelner pointed out that this would eliminate the turn necessary if the road is extended through the Lynch farm and also to save the Lynch property from serious damage. No action was taken on the proposal.

Most of the speakers admitted that relocation of the highway is a good thing for the traveler because it shortens the route and eliminates dangerous crossings but they also argued that Appleton should pay for the improvement.

Among the speakers were members of the highway commission, who said they attended the meeting to learn the sentiment of Twin City people. E. E. Jandrey, W. H. Miner, E. E. Lampert, George Loeschner, chairman of the Winnebago board, and Mayor M. Schoetz of Menasha.

INSPECTOR PRAISES HIGH SCHOOL HERE

Principal and Teachers Complimented on Efficiency and Cooperation

A report on conditions in Appleton high school as found by an inspector from the state department of education when he visited the school last month, contains a reference to Principal Lee C. Rasey in which he is commended for efficient management of the school and for bringing about cooperation in all the departments.

"It has been the policy of your board to delegate large authority with corresponding responsibility for administration to your principal," the report said. "The results are abundant justification for this policy. The supervisor reports that under the efficient administration of Mr. Rasey your high school is in excellent condition from every standpoint."

"The spirit of cooperation and good feeling exists not only among the teachers but throughout the student body and is a matter of congratulation to your board. The fine spirit and school spirit which was observed and which exceeded in another school which the supervisor has visited."

"A further policy of your board is that you should provide by means of a liberal salary schedule teachers of the very best training and experience possible. This policy is also well justified by the results which are apparent."

Rasey Will Leave High School After Next Term

Lee C. Rasey, principal of Appleton high school, surprised the board of education at its meeting at Appleton high school Monday afternoon by announcing he expects to enter upon a business career by the end of the next school year, if not sooner. He said he had an opportunity to associate himself with a reliable and successful firm two months ago and very nearly offered his resignation at that time.

The offer still holds good and he expects to discontinue teaching after the coming year. His main reason in continuing in his present position for another year is to see the completion of the new junior high schools in which he has taken an active part from the start.

Paul V. Cary corroborated Mr. Rasey's statement by saying Mr. Rasey informed him confidentially during the winter of his contemplated action and that his proposed resignation was discussed at some length because of the bearing it would have on the new buildings. He finally decided to continue his work for the present.

Mr. Rasey's reason for making the proposed change was that his earning capacity in the teaching profession is limited, whereas a business career offers a broader and more remunerative field. His announcement was followed by protests from members.

Do Your Easter Mailing Early, Zuehlke Warns

The nearness of Easter should remind persons who are accustomed to mail Easter cards to attend to this practice at the earliest possible opportunity, according to Postmaster William H. Zuehlke.

As in the case of Christmas, the Easter holidays always mean a period of mail congestion not only in Appleton, but in all postoffices of the country. If persons desire to have their friends or relatives receive their Easter greetings before Easter Sunday, they should not wait until the last day or two, but mail the cards early in the week.

The same advice applies to the sending of flowers and candies which usually crowds the parcel post mail at this season of the year, the postmaster said. Mr. Zuehlke also advises against the use of old sized greeting cards, since these cannot be run through the canceling machine, but must be canceled by hand and consequently delay the mails.

TEACH PEACE IN CHURCHES, PEABODY URGES MINISTERS

Pastor of Congregational Church Advocates Education Against War

Dr. H. E. Peabody, pastor of First Congregational church, spoke on "The Christian Church and Education for Peace" at a meeting of the Fox River Valley Ministerial association Monday morning in the Y. M. C. A. Dr. Peabody began by quoting Dr. Fosdick's statement that war and peace is the supreme moral issue of the day and victory without peace is worse than peace without victory. "In Europe today there are one million men under arms than in 1913, he said, but the church was making no serious moral effort to avert war. Politicians and diplomats are pleased to have it so, Dr. Peabody said.

Many politicians have been strenuous in their efforts to keep the country out of what they call foreign entanglements, yet until sidetracked by the oil scandals in Washington the Chester concessions apparently had full approval, and they promised to entangle the people in the most explosive area on the face of the earth. This, he said, to arouse no fear of foreign entanglements, though an investment of two and one-half billion dollars was planned to be made there.

SYSTEM IS BLAMED

Dr. Peabody stressed the fact that it was not the people who are to blame but the system under which people live. According to a speech by Senator Owen, Dr. Peabody said that since 1900 the French and Russian governments have been preparing for the war with Germany, building and conferring with each other with this in view. He asserted that the country is drifting back to this system.

Dr. Peabody felt that the church must begin an educational program for peace, that it might put into churches and schools a quarterly lesson on peace as was formerly done on temperance. He said that since peace had come to be generally accepted as unconditional he wanted to define himself as not an unconditional pacifist, for he recognized such a thing as a just war, but that in teaching a peace program he was sure that 75 per cent of the contents of peace lessons and peace programs must be acceptable to all Christians and that the controversial remainder might be omitted from such courses of teaching.

"Glad You're Here" Picked By Rotarians

"Glad You're Here" That is the greeting which will be flashed to visiting Rotarians at the annual conference of Tenth district of Rotary here on April 29 and 30. The greeting slogan, submitted by Jane McCarthy, 846 Winnebago-st, was awarded the prize of $10 offered by the Rotary club by the reception committee for the convention at a meeting Monday afternoon. About 100 slogans were submitted.

The greeting will be used on badges and buttons which will be worn by persons coming in contact with visitors. The buttons will have the words: "Welcome Rotarians" around the edges and the prize winning slogan, "Glad You're Here," in the center.

DONAHUE IS NOTED EXPERT ON BUSINESS

Advertising Club Brings Well Known Chicago Advertising Man to Appleton

Members of Appleton Advertising club are convinced that the address given by W. E. Donahue, manager of local display advertising for the Chicago Tribune, will be one of the most important merchandising lectures to be delivered here this year and are making efforts to insure a large attendance at the meeting. Mr. Donahue is to speak here on the evening of April 22.

The Chicago advertising man was a speaker at a recent meeting of newspapermen and was easily the biggest attraction on the program. He is credited very largely with the enormous amount of advertising that the Tribune carries and is reputed to be a national authority of merchandising and on business. His subject here will be: "Business is as good as we make it."

Committees have been appointed by the advertising club to arrange for the meeting. They are: Attendance, Gerald Galpin, Julius Kopplin, John Mullen and George Schmidt; arrangements, Lester Balliet; program, David Smith; dinner, Hugh G. Corbett.

MAN IN GREEN BAY HOSPITAL SAYS HE WAS ATTACKED HERE

Signs Affidavit Charging Local Authorities Refused to Help Him

John Roth, a traveling salesman, is in a hospital in Green Bay recovering from injuries he alleges were received when he was "beaten up" in a hotel in Appleton. In an affidavit which he is alleged to have signed Tuesday morning he declared he was assaulted by bootleggers with his refusal to buy their wares and that he was refused assistance by Appleton and county authorities.

District Attorney John A. Lonsdorf and Chief of Police George T. Prim deny the man's charges, declaring he was not attacked by bootleggers and that he was not refused assistance. According to their story Roth became involved in an altercation at the hotel and a scuffle followed. He tried to obtain warrants for the arrest of a fellow salesman accused of striking him but it was learned that he provoked the fight and he was advised that his best chance for redress was to engage a lawyer and sue his alleged assailant. Roth left for Green Bay shortly after the trouble and went to a hospital. The story as told by Roth in his affidavit conflicts in many details with information obtained by local authorities.

Smoking By Teen-Age Boys Puts Handicap On Chances For Success, Dr. Brady Says

Noted Physician Declares Rod
Should Be Used On Youths
Who Persist in Smoking.

Raps Smoking

DR. WILLIAM BRADY

Every mother should exact from her son before he enters his teens a solemn pledge that he will not use tobacco before he is old enough to vote. If this were the universal custom it would mean a great betterment in health and morals. I should like to say a few words about the effects of tobacco upon youth, but mind please, I am not preaching. I refer to morality right at the beginning, but that is incidental and I mention it only because it is necessarily associated with the health issue. I believe that for some grown men the temperate use of tobacco is harmless. So I am not prejudiced against tobacco. A man who finds it necessary to resort to tobacco in the middle of his day's work or at various times in the course of the day's work, is not temperate—he's an addict, the drug habit has got him, he lacks the will or strength of character to worry through the day's work without a dose or several doses of tobacco.

Athletic trainers know from experience that the youth who smokes is no good in an athletic contest. So they forbid smoking, and the boys who seriously train for athletic contests of any kind know he can't hope to make a creditable showing if he indulges in an occasional cigarette. A smoke while he is in training. So he doesn't smoke, unless he is a halfwit.

Sometimes it happens that a smoker shines for a short time in his class standing in high school. This unusual occurrence should not mislead anybody as to the effect of tobacco upon mental efficiency. High standing in high school class work is often a matter of luck, as every one knows who has had the luck to gain a high mark in some subject. But wait until the tobacco user enters college, and then watch him flounder. If he keeps on with the smoking. The luck doesn't last. Actual scientific measurements of the mental efficiency of large numbers of college students showed that a smoker decreases mental efficiency from ten to twenty-five per centum. So the fellow who means to get along in college will not smoke. He'll keep that habit for his old age.

A regular boy in his teens gets a wholesome kind of stimulation out of play, rough play, horse play, athletics, sport, exercise. Such a boy is not so darned pretty. He would never do as a model for a collar factory, nor has his everyday attire that perfectly effeminate charm which the hero of the clothing ad achieves. A lad at this time of life needs plenty of wholesome stimulation and it is unfortunate that modern conditions of living, particularly in cities, deny him the opportunity to get it. It is a much too common practice to arrest boys nowadays because they have merely indulged in a little mischief by way of vicious horse play—the very mischief which their fathers did before them and without protest except from a few old fogies perhaps. For instance, when we were boys it was legitimate sport to rout out the neighborhood character in the dark, give him a good ducking, and enjoy a fine chase. Now it's a crime to commit such outrages.

Probably the unnatural repression forced upon modern youth by unnatural urban living conditions has something to do with the readiness with which boys acquire the tobacco habit today. But a regular boy seeks no such excuse. The boy who imagines he can substitute tobacco for the natural stimuli he craves, has a bad education. He has not yet learned how to live, how to get the most out of life. The boy who gets into the habit of smoking misses a lot which he will never get out of life with the aid of tobacco.

There's another reason which I think has something to do with the use of tobacco by youths. It is the inferiority complex, plus the influence of imitation. The movie hero who nonchalantly rolls or lights a cigarette when he hasn't the necessary personality or force of character to register the desired effect himself, betrays such a complex. So does the youth who finds himself a little nervous about what to do with his hands unless he can employ them in some such manner. Weakness betrays itself, and the cheap movie stunt hardly conceals it. We all know how some little boys who desire to appear bold smoke cornstalk or something for the effect on the spectators; how they practice to spit as they imagine a regular hero, spit well, this identical desire to "show off" inspires most boys of school age who smoke. They are keenly conscious of their own inferiority and ly raises the blood pressure than tobacco does, and probably the moderate use of tobacco in youth has much to do with the premature physical breakdown which is apparently becoming more common in the fourth decade—premature hardening of the arteries. Not out of character, when you come to think of it—an old man's habit and an old man's disease. The brief stimulation of brains and spinal centers by tobacco is insufficient to warrant calling tobacco a stimulant. The paramount effect of tobacco, like that of alcohol, is narcotic and depressant. Addicts resort to both of these drugs for the narcotic effect. Tobacco helps benumb the higher brain centres, the consciousness, will-power, character, the thinking power. That's the reason it has such evil repute, especially in the form of the cigarette which is most popular among the immature and the defective.

I suggested the other day that a few good whippings would be the best treatment for a sixteen-year old boy who has already learned how to smoke. If he has learned nothing else, somebody took umbrage at this and asked me how whipping a boy could break him of such a habit. I don't know just how it works, but I dare say whipping has cured more cases of tobacco habit than any other method of treatment. I advocate whipping as the penalty for every case of tobacco indulgence in youth. It is a fitting punishment for a crime which is too frequently committed with impunity.

By way of prevention I think a reasonable amount of education in our schools would accomplish a great deal. It is time the schools should begin to educate the young below the eyebrows. In some schools there is a course dubbed "physical education," to be sure, but it is generally a farce in effect, being selective rather than compulsory and bringing the student no credit toward graduation.

"Any poor, halfwit can say 'Yes, I'll have a smoke'—or a drink or whatever may be offered. It takes a man with a modicum of brains and a little strength of character to say 'No, thanks, I don't smoke'—or whatever undesirable thing his boon companions may urge upon him. It is a poor friendship or companionship, that depends on frailty of character. The dumbbell who would do something questionable just because 'all the fellows do' is to be pitied."

In the larger colleges and universities it has been found that non-users of tobacco uniformly make greater gains than tobacco users do in growth, development of the chest, lung capacity and weight.

they hope that by affecting nonchalance as the movie hero and the pretty boy of the clothing cartoon affect it they can conceal the weakness.

Probably no other drug so marked.

Who would ever guess, unless they were "in the know," that lead is a necessary ingredient in the glass of which the finest telescope lenses are made? But such is a fact, and there is also lead in the lens of the camera, the microscope and eyeglasses, in your fountain pen and in the tires of your automobile.

Most important of all, however, is the use of white-lead as the principal ingredient in good paint. The quality of any paint depends largely on the amount of white-lead it contains.

We sell white-lead of the highest quality, mixed with pure linseed oil, under the name and trademark of

The schools sorely need an adequate department of physical training—let's not stultify this branch of education by calling it "physical education"—do we call arithmetic or Caesar's Vagaries "mental education"? Training of the body is education quite as certainly as training of the mind. An individual with a weak, sickly, untrained body is not educated, no matter what freaks of mental accomplishment he may boast. The old schoolteacher's axiom Mens sana in corpore sano—a sound mind in a sound body—applies as positively to the state of the body as it does to the development of the mind. We need deeper education in the common schools. For one thing, I believe, a compulsory course for every high school boy, would do a great deal for health and character. That great and universally beloved American, Theodore Roosevelt, believed in this branch of education.

Besides the popular prejudice against cigarette smoking, which, as I believe, is justified, it is a striking fact that great employers object to smoking in business hours and some of them refuse to employ a person who has the cigarette habit. They take this position on the ground that the cigarette smoker is always

Does Your House Leak Heat Like A Sieve?

Hot, unbearable rooms in summer go hand in hand with high winter fuel bills—in the houses that are sieves for heat.
Heat leaks through walls and roof in summer, superheats the attic and seeps through till rooms are actually warmer than the outside air. In winter heat leaks out; rooms are chilly; coal bills large.

Flax-li-num Stops Heat Waste
There is a way to stop heat leakage, to guarantee comfort in summer and winter. That way is to line walls and roof with Flax-li-num, the insulation. Flax-li-num is a good, durable building material made in flexible sheets to go into house walls and roof. In stopping heat it equals 16 times its thickness in brick or 27 times its thickness in concrete.

Flax-li-num resists the passage of heat as rubber resists that of electricity. Keeps homes warm in winter, cool in summer. Bottles up heat in December and seals it out in August.

Greater Comfort and Lower Coal Bills
Build this good material into your walls and roof and you get the same protection as the best refrigerators and refrigerator cars. Comfort; economy; low fuel bills.

Whether you buy, rent or build see that the house you live in is lined with Flax-li-num.

"For Comfort and Economy," a valuable booklet for home builders, sent on request. Call, write or phone for cost estimate or to locate Flax-li-num houses to rent or buy.

This is a Telephone "Station"

AT THE beginning and end of a telephone message is a telephone instrument, which we call a station. It is a station of a continent-wide system of voice communication—of which there are more than 14,000,000 others in the Bell System.

We have developed a class of long distance service, which we call "station-to-station" service. It means that we undertake to put the two telephone instruments into connection and the party calling talks either to the person who answers or to some one who may be reached immediately at the called telephone or station.

It costs us less to handle a call of this kind and therefore we supply it at a rate lower than the regular "person-to-person" service. The saving is about 20 per cent.

Telephone users are invited to try this method of making their long distance calls and take advantage of the lower rates. On a "station-to-station" call the charge applies when any one answers the distant telephone (or private branch exchange).

UP THE BEANSTOCK

Nick looked at the magic bean that Silver Wing had given him. It certainly didn't look magic. It looked like the dried beans that your mother buys at the grocery store for bakins, or that little boys shoot through bean-shooters.

Where was the fairy that they had been talking to on the purple thistle only a minute before?

But there was the bean! There was no getting away from that. And, of course, they didn't want to get away from it, for hadn't Silver Wing said that it was the mate to Jack's bean, and that it would grow into a beanstalk just as his had if they would plant it.

"Come and get the magic shoes," shouted Nick all at once. "The fairy said for us to look up the magic green shoes before we tried to climb the magic beanstalk. We'd better put them on at once, Nancy, so we will be ready when it begins to grow."

Away they scampered to the big stone under the chestnut-tree, and there, just as Silver Wing had said, stood the four little green scalloped shoes.

As soon as the shoes were on, Nick knelt down and made a little hole in the ground with a stick. Then he dropped the bean in and covered it up.

But scarcely had he gotten to his feet when the bean began to grow and an enormous green vine with a very thick stem shot up past them like a skyrocket, straight for the sky.

"Come on, Nancy!" yelled Nick. "All aboard for Beanstalk Land, where the jolly giants live. I'll go first so that if there are any bad places I can tell you."

They passed the tree tops and the clouds and it didn't seem to be more than two minutes and a half until they came to the place where the beanstalk spread out like a ceiling over their heads.

But there was an opening and they clambered through.

And in and behold, there they were in Beanstalk Land!

It looked like any other country
